

Old Town Council Re-elected To Office

In Monday's voting P. W. Cope as Mayor and Lloyd McPhee and Jos. McLean as Town Councillors were returned to office for another term.

It was a close fight and a good one. Mayor Cope topped the polls with 293 votes, McPhee was next with 198 and McLean polled 185. J. O. McKen was high man of the losers with 181, just four behind McLean, May 158, and Jones 151, leaving only 52 votes between the highest and the lowest on the entire slate.

Our congratulations to the winners. They have assumed another period of office in a job that does not have flowers strewn along the path all the time, but always has plenty of work. 361 voters braved the sub-zero weather and snow-filled roads to cast their ballots.

WINTER CLAMPS DOWN AGAIN

After two weeks of moderate weather, during which time considerable snow had melted from the badly drifted roads, winter came again Sunday, when snow commenced falling between midnight and daylight, and through the day Sunday snow came on the wings of a north wind with falling temperatures. Daylight Monday saw the mercury at 26 below, and it was cold all day Monday and was 17 below at Midnight Monday evening.

Roads are filled with fresh, loose snow and travel is difficult and impossible in some parts.

It is hoped that the cold spell will not last long and that balmy weather will soon come again as spring is getting near every day.

Misses Adrienne Garner and Marie Piepgrass are enlisting in the C.A.V.A.C. and are waiting now for acceptance of their applications.

Teddy Allan returned from Edmonton last week after completing his welding course, having received a percentage of 91 in both acetylene and electric work.

McLean, present Choir leader, Mrs. L. L. Palmer and Elder John F. Salmon. A fair crowd, considering the weather was in attendance.

McLean, Vice-President, O. W. Larson, Recording Secretary and Jack Kenney, Secretary. Directors are C. O. Nalder, Eav B. Reid and W. P. Mitchell.

Morris Rusch, 13, of Burnis, near Cowley, Alta., was found dead in the snow Friday after missing from his home for several days. He had been tobogganing with some pals, and was on an overhanging snow bank when the drift gave way and plunged him into the deep snow. Whether he was suffocated in the loose snow or died from exposure is not known. No inquest is being held.

News From The Raymond Co-op

The end of the year has come and gone and at the last Directors meeting of the Cheese Factory, the affairs of the Co-op were thoroughly discussed and several decisions were arrived at.

The general text of the more important of these discussions were as follows:

FIRST
To better acquaint shareholders and patrons with the operations and financial position of the Association in an endeavor to stimulate greater public interest in the success of the plant.

SECOND
To lay down a sound business policy to ensure the utmost efficiency, economy and service in its operation.

THIRD
To arrange for the sale of the balance of shares, that the affairs of the Co-op might be placed on a firm financial footing.

The original plans were laid for the construction of a Cheese Factory only. However as the scheme was more thoroughly discussed numerous people felt that a Cold Storage Locker Unit should be included in the plans in order to insure farmers of a year-around supply of fresh meat and other foods.

An Egg-Grading service was also considered a service much needed. Plans were accordingly drawn up and these three departments were set into operation at the earliest possible date.

These departments are all running along smoothly, and considering the time of the season the plant was opened satisfactory results have ensued. It has not turned over a big profit to date nor has it been expected to. Until the volume of business of every department increases we should be content to operate on a bare paying basis. However, the highest possible prices have been paid for produce, and it is strongly expected that within the next two or three months every department will be showing a fair profit.

The matter of careful business management was also given considerable discussion. Such items as staff arrangements, authority, shop arrangement, business policy and service to the public were fully discussed. As a result it is felt that under these arrangements, the plant will be operated as an efficient business unit.

Since that time, other needs have arisen and some of these have been included. Up to the present time these included are: a retail meat service and a line of supplement feed concentrates. As other services are needed, their merits will be considered upon the basis of the service they offer to the shareholders and patrons and upon their soundness to the business itself considering that operation and business methods fill certain purchasing and selling needs of its patrons, it has almost unlimited possibilities for service along these lines.

However, there is an important feature which must be borne in mind. A co-operative must have the co-operation and loyal support of the community it is endeavoring to serve. If that is lacking, it cannot hope to enjoy any great measure of success. As the co-operative was built by the people for their use, it is their democratic right to have a voice in its management. The Co-op was built to serve, they are not expected to take a direct hand in its administration, but they do elect men for directors in whom they have faith to administer in their stead. They also have the unquestioned right to freely voice their ideas in the regular annual meetings. Suffice it is to say that a Co-operative is no stronger than the support it receives from its beneficiaries. If it is recipient of that support, then it can fulfill a great need in our community.

At this point there is also another very important item to consider. A certain sum of money is required for the construction of the plant and for the installation of the necessary machinery and equipment with which to operate it. This amount requires to be put up by public spirited citizens of the district who have the foresight and vision to see the benefits and possibilities which such a plant has to offer for the welfare of the community. Possibly we expect too much, but it is the firm conviction of the Directors that every co-operative, the district center or making a decent living should buy or subscribe to at least a few shares in this co-operative enterprise.

If the people as a whole will take a lively interest in this thing, it will grow and prosper even a small amount, it can't help but be a huge success. Not only is the investment safely placed in a building and in equipment worth almost twice the amount of shares to be sold but you are making an investment toward the building up of your community without any great amount of money or effort being spent on any one person's part. Of equal importance is the fact that we are materially contributing to the war effort of our Government by assisting an industry so vitally important to its success.

We might as well be frank.

Funeral Services For J. Smith

Funeral services over the remains of Jonathan Smith, of Welling, who passed away Monday of last week, were held in the Raymond First Ward Church Friday afternoon with Bishop S. Floyd Wilde of the Welling Ward presiding, the Raymond First Ward Choir furnishing the singing, with Ira R. McBride conducting and Roi Stone at the organ. Besides the choir hymns, Miss Jeannine Wilde sang "The Lord's Prayer" and Ira McBride sang "I Shall Not Pass Again This Way."

Bishop Ririe of Magrath and Elders A. E. Foote and C. E. Allred were speakers at the service, all speaking of the honesty, integrity and willingness to serve of deceased Elder Foote read from a dairy of deceased, revealing some of his experiences from his life, which had been spent almost entirely as a pioneer in Utah and South-eastern Alberta. Born in Farmington, Utah, in 1876, he experienced some hard times there as a boy, especially one winter when the flour mill burned down and many people had to soak wheat and cook it for food.

In 1893 the family moved to Cardston and helped in the pioneering of that district. Deceased was a good violinist and organized and led an orchestra for 8 years playing for dances all over the Cardston district. In his early years in Canada he was a cowboy working on various cattle ranches.

Bishop Wilde thanked all who assisted during the illness and burial of deceased and added his tribute to the character of deceased. Burial was in the Raymond cemetery with Christensen Bros. in charge. Surviving are his wife, six sons, two in the armed forces, and four daughters. We extend our sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Drifted roads held up the bus Thursday morning. It arrived in Raymond at 11:20.

CHILDREN'S CONDUCTOR

Isidor Scherman is making his fourth annual appearance as music director of "The Children's Scrapbook," Saturdays at 11:30 a.m. C.D.T. (10:30 a.m. MDT), over CBK, Watrous, and other stations in the Western network. He has gone to school in Toronto public schools and at the Royal Academy of Music in London, has played in small movie houses, and under the batons of the world's greatest conductors, has met Toscanini (his greatest thrill), cherishes his Goffriller violin (1706), also speaks French, German and a little Russian as well as English and adores his adopted daughter, Carole, who is just two.

Mrs. Henry Salmon Passes

Resident of Southern Alberta for many years, Mrs. Elizabeth Salmon, 83, died at her home in the district south of the city Monday morning after a lingering illness. The deceased was born in England and settled in Raymond in 1903 later moving to Lethbridge. She is survived by her husband, Henry, two sons, Henry Jr., of Sangudo, Alta., and Heber of South Lethbridge, and one daughter, Mrs. I. S. Pollis of Raymond. Funeral services were held at Raymond, Thursday, February 11, at 2 p.m. with Christensen Bros. in charge of arrangements.—Leth Herald.

FUNERAL SERVICES

Funeral services for Mrs. Henry Salmon, who passed away Monday morning, were held in the 2nd Ward Chapel Thursday afternoon with Bishop L. L. Palmer in charge.

Choir hymns were "I Need Thee, Every Hour," "Shall We Meet Beyond the River" and "Nearer My God to Thee." Mesdames King and Walker sang a duet as a special number.

Elder Geo. Fairbanks offered the opening prayer, Elder Parley Meldrum the benediction and Geo. Court dedicated the grave.

Speakers were Bishop Palmer and C. E. Allred both of whom eulogized the life of service of deceased to her husband and family and spoke of the wonderful promises of the resurrection and life after death.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the husband and children in their sorrow.

NEWS NOTES

Miss Pearl Heninger of Magrath was taken to the Hospital Thursday night suffering with pneumonia. She is reported as feeling better today.

Floyd Zemp of Picture Butte, formerly of Raymond, received a fractured leg while on his way to work Thursday morning. According to reports a car tried to stop to pick him up and skidded into him on the icy roads.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Next Sunday immediately after Church services there will be held in the First Ward a Red Cross Concert. An evening of music with local talent and Mrs. Sanquist of Lethbridge with Zazinski a violinist who was associated with the Toronto Conservatory of Music will be present.

A report of the past years Red Cross activity will be given by persons in charge of the various departments.

Plan now to attend this evening.

ARE YOU HELPING

In the next few days the Raymond Co-op is starting a drive to sell the remainder of their stock in order to liquidate a few outstanding bills and have a reserve capital for operation. The news from the Co-op in this issue will give you the details and we urge you to read it all.

The question now is "Are you helping, or are you going to help." This institution will succeed only as we lend our support, not only by our patronage, but also by our subscribing stock in it. We are not referring now to the retailing facilities housed there, we are referring to the milk receiving, cheese making and egg grading and of it. The retailers operating from there are in business for themselves and are working on their merits.

With respect to the Co-op part of it, we have said repeatedly, that here is an opportunity for us to help ourselves and our friends. Right now we are enjoying an unprecedented wave of prosperity and we have few financial worries and now is the time we should all prepare for the backwash of this period of good times. This is the time when a few of our shakels should go into sound and sensible investments, and investments that help to stabilize our town and we as individuals when the backwash comes. The investments already made in the Co-op are worth almost twice as much as the total sales of stock will amount to. Does that sound safe? You can buy your share or shares on the monthly payment plan. Will that hurt you? You can sit as a stockholder in the annual meetings and see the man you want to run your business. Is this any incentive? You will be aiding in providing and maintaining a steady and profitable market for the milk and eggs of yourself and your neighbor, and opening the way for unlimited expansion and growth of the Co-operative idea in our midst. How much will this be

The Raymond Rotary Club

NEWS FROM THE CO-OP

this community enterprise is not getting the support the services it has to offer merits and needs. Just why, we do not know. Certainly it is not because of the lack of public spirited men. There have, of course, been the usual rumors circulated of one kind and another, declaring it as nothing but a political game while others have made contributions of other descriptions. However it is felt that intelligent people usually accept gossip for what it is worth and accordingly no great amount of importance is attached to it. It is fully realized that existing marketing conditions haven't been very conducive to the accumulation of cash available for investment purposes. Yet it is felt that a certain amount of consideration could be received in nearly every case providing suitable arrangements for payment could be arranged. With this in mind the Directors have decided to sell the balance of the shares either by subscription or for cash. That means that anyone wishing to buy a certain number of shares who didn't have the cash available with which to buy these shares outright, might subscribe to this amount making a down payment on them, then, setting forth the conditions under which the balance of the purchase price of the shares would be met. These future payments could be arranged for on a monthly basis or at any given time suitable to the purchasers convenience. It is no more than fair to add that many people have given magnificent support. Quite a number of people of limited means and otherwise have invested liberally while others have gone out of their way to help in every manner possible. On the other hand there are so many who could make an investment without any appreciable sacrifice who have, as yet, added little or nothing to the success of the enterprise.

We are therefore appealing to you in this manner and ask you to give this matter your most serious consideration. In the course of the next few days we are starting what we hope will be the final drive to sell or subscribe the balance of these shares. By so doing it will be possible for us to pay off most of our present existing indebtedness and at the same time be supplied with sufficient working capital for the efficient operation of this plant.

We must of necessity rely upon your support to put this over and we do not feel that the people of this district will let us down right at a time when support is so vitally needed. If you are already a stockholder and find it possible to buy more your interest would be greatly appreciated. If you haven't any, you will not want to be numbered among those who do not think enough of their community to make a small investment in its growth and development. Why even wait to be contacted for support when it would be so much more pleasant and so much easier to contact one of the Directors yourself and ask for the number of shares you can handle. Determine right now to give this enterprise your full support, first by becoming a substantial shareholder, then by becoming a patron.

As for the Directors, we pledge our every effort towards making this community enterprise your servant styled to serve you in every possible manner.

PRESERVED, PACKED AND SHIPPED

Farmers, fishermen and stock-raisers would labour in vain to supply food to the United Nations, were it not for the added labour of those who prepare, preserve, pack and ship the food.

Thousands of Canadian men and women are doing a most necessary job of converting live and raw products to usable, transportable food for millions of fighting men and civilians overseas. In estimating the value of various tasks in the total war effort, much credit should be given to the workers in the
